Köttermann represents safety and also gives you financial security.

When you choose a Köttermann fume cupboard, you are choosing the highest safety standards, the best possible ergonomic characteristics and an unsurpassed financial deal for your laboratory.

Safety as standard.

- Outstanding containment results for harmful substances in accordance with EN 14175-3; far in excess of the required limits
- With AutoProtect* the innovative front sash control is standard
- Permanent monitoring of the extract system according to EN 14175-2
- Front sash manufactured from shatterproof safety glass for the best possible shatter protection.

* excluding walk-in models

 available on request

Well designed ergonomics.

- Uniquely ergonomic with the innovative Softmatic.
- Foot switch opens the front sash, even if you have your hands full.
- Practical drawer underneath the worktop for equipment and other small items.

Impressively economical.

- Low volume flow with high containment.
- The AutoProtect*, which is standard, facilitates regulated extraction for up to 60 % of the operational time, with closed front sash, which means that the operational cost of this time can be reduced by c. 65 %!
